

FACULTY PUBLICATIONS

Dr. Howard Sage, Developmental Skills Department.

The new publication, Parading the Buddha: Localizing Buddha's Birthday Celebrations, by Venerable Juewei, published by Buddha's Light Publishing, 3456 South Glenmark Drive, Hacienda Heights, CA 91745, contains an acknowledgement section which details Dr. Sage's part in helping the author as she brought this work to fruition. She writes in the Acknowledgements as follows:

“Dr. Howard Sage, English faculty at Hunter College of the City University of New York, reminded me constantly of the equal importance of style and content. His indefatigable editing of crucial chapters helped me to perfect the presentation of interesting content.”

Parading the Buddha

LOCALIZING BUDDHA'S BIRTHDAY CELEBRATIONS

Written by Venerable Juewei
236 pages, 5.5 x 8.25, paperback
ISBN: 978-1-932293-83-8

In her debut work, Ven. Juewei examines Buddhist acculturation—how cultures adapt to and interact with other cultures—through the history of Buddha's Birthday celebrations. Ven. Juewei's research brings to life historical accounts of grand Buddha image processions during the Northern Wei dynasty around the resplendent capital Luoyang, then the largest city in the world. With a critical reading of A Record of Buddhist Monasteries in Luoyang as its focal point, Ven. Juewei provides an analysis of how Buddha's Birthday parades changed the politics, social makeup, and religious imagination of the people.

Parading the Buddha also includes information about the Buddha's Birthday Education Project, where Ven. Juewei and numerous volunteers used this historical research to teach modern communities about the tradition of Buddha's Birthday celebrations and help inspire new approaches for adapting Buddhism to the West.