Course Description:

The course will begin with a review of the accounting cycle. First, students will be taken through the process of analyzing and journalizing transactions, posting to the general ledger, and the preparation of adjusting and closing entries. The course provides accounting students with the opportunity to become familiar with accounting information systems, systems and documentation flowcharts, information concepts, and applications to the different areas in the transaction processing system. The course also covers accounting control procedures that are commonly used to detect, correct, and prevent deficiencies in internal control, administrative control and in the transaction processing system for both the manual and computerized accounting processing systems. The course will include basic analysis and design of accounting information systems.

	Course Student Learning Outcomes (Students will be able to...)	Measurements (means of assessment for student learning outcomes listed in first column)
1	Identify the internal controls required for both manual and computerized accounting information systems.	Homework (questions, exercises and problems). Quizzes and test questions.
2	Explain how flowcharts are used to document an Accounting information system.	Homework questions, exercises and problems. Quizzes and test questions.
3	Explain how data is managed and protected in an Accounting information system.	Homework questions, exercises and problems. Quizzes and test questions.
4	Explains how inadequate internal controls in an accounting information system may lead to inaccurate Accounting records, possible fraud and/or identify theft.	Homework questions, exercises and problems. Quizzes and test questions.
5	Explain how the design of an adequate accounting information system depends on both the needs of business and the environment in which the business operates.	Homework questions, exercises and problems. Quizzes and test questions.

Below are the college's general education learning outcomes that will be covered and assessed in this course.

	General Education Learning Outcomes	Measurements (means of assessment for general education goals listed in first column)
1	Communication Skills - Students will be able to write, read, listen and speak critically and effectively.	Note taking, quizzes and test questions.

Required Textbook:

Accounting Information Systems, Author: Turner / Weickgenannt, Publisher: Wiley, Edition: 2nd;

Conduct of the Course:

Adequate preparation for each class is required for success. Students should read each chapter before it is covered with all other reading assignments completed prior to class. Students should work through exercises and problems covered in class. Students are encouraged to ask questions on any material not clear to them. In case of absence, students are responsible for material covered. Announced examinations will be conducted periodically and quizzes may be given at any time without notice.

Grading:

The final grade for the course will be determined as follows:

Class Examinations:	60%
Final Examination:	40%
	100%

Make up exams are at the discretion of the professor. Students may use calculators on examinations. Cell phones and programmable calculators are not allowed during examinations. Excessive absences will result in a WU grade.

Class Participation

Participation in the academic activity of each course is a significant component of the learning process and plays a major role in determining overall student academic achievement. Academic activities may include, but are not limited to, attending class, submitting assignments, engaging in in-class or online activities, taking exams, and/or participating in group work. Each instructor has the right to establish their own class participation policy, and it is each student's responsibility to be familiar with and follow the participation policies for each course.

BMCC is committed to the health and well-being of all students. It is common for everyone to seek assistance at some point in their life, and there are free and confidential services on campus that can help.

Single Stop www.bmcc.cuny.edu/singlestop, room S230, 212-220-8195. If you are having problems with food or housing insecurity, finances, health insurance or anything else that might get in the way of your studies at BMCC, come by the Single Stop Office for advice and assistance. Assistance is also available through the Office of Student Affairs, S350, 212-220- 8130.

BMCC Policy on Plagiarism and Academic Integrity Statement

Plagiarism is the presentation of someone else's ideas, words or artistic, scientific, or technical work as one's own creation. Using the idea or work of another is permissible only when the original author is identified. Paraphrasing and summarizing, as well as direct quotations, require citations to the original source. Plagiarism may be intentional or unintentional. Lack of dishonest intent does not necessarily absolve a student of responsibility for plagiarism. Students who are unsure how and when to provide documentation are advised to consult with their instructors. The library has guides designed to help students to appropriately identify a cited work. The full policy can be found on BMCC's Web site, www.bmcc.cuny.edu. For further information on integrity and behavior, please consult the college bulletin (also available online).

Course outline is tentative and subject to change. Your instructor may substitute alternative exercises and problems.
